There are a number of societies and academic associations which organize activities both at inter class and inter-college levels. This provides ample opportunities to our students to express themselves creatively, learn useful skills, broaden their horizons, and indulge in a healthy spirit of competition. Through these societies, associations, and even independently, our students have participated in academic and co-curricular activities at various platforms and have brought honours for themselves and for the college. Altogether, the students are provided ample opportunities to hone their intellectual and cultural faculties.
